One Little Human

One little human
Falling away from the pack
Can restore hope to the world
Bring humanity back.

One little human
Stepping away from the crowd
Can feel the anguish of the multitudes
And voice it out loud.

One little human
Scarred and nearly broken
Can take joy, truth, and love
Where it's never been spoken.

One little human
Abiding by love's creed
Can heal the whole world
Let's wish it Godspeed.

One little human
It may very well be you
Can show all other humans
What they are able to do.

A Call to Conscious Action Before You Begin

Humanity stands at a critical crossroads, and the future you create will depend on whether you continue to surrender your empowerment or awaken to your capacity to change the course of human existence.

Greed, corruption, authoritarianism, warfare, exploitation, environmental destruction and the relentless concentration of wealth (and the abuse of power that comes with it), are driving humanity toward an increasingly dangerous future.

And one of the greatest forces enabling this destruction is apathy — the belief that the problems are too big, that we are powerless to change anything, or that someone else will come along and save us.

At Jenuine Healing, we reject that resignation.

Our vision is for a state of human existence we call universal empowerment: a world in which every soul is free to pursue their unique passion and purpose, and in so doing, experience joy, love, abundance, freedom, health, success and wholeness. We hold space for a world in which people, animals, plants and the natural environment coexist in harmony, guided by higher consciousness rather than petty greed, fear, ego and domination.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

We believe the only sustainable path toward this future is a mass upliftment in human consciousness. And that transformation begins with individuals choosing to reclaim their sovereignty and participate in something greater than themselves.

This booklet contains a powerful collection of Spiritual Freedom Technique (SFT) taps developed by world-renowned energy healer, Jen Ward, to address the forces, patterns and structures that perpetuate humanity's disempowerment.

These taps are intentional energetic interventions designed to challenge and dismantle the consciousness underlying the abuse of power, while supporting humanity's movement toward universal empowerment.

You do not have to be wealthy, influential or politically connected to participate in changing humanity's trajectory.

By enhancing the flow of energy that comes from doing these SFT taps, you are choosing conscious intention over helplessness, participation over apathy, and empowerment over resignation. We invite you to complement this practice with conscious choices and meaningful action in your everyday life.

The manifesto that follows explains our vision and the deeper purpose behind this work. The SFT taps that make up the remainder of this booklet give you a practical way to participate.

Humanity urgently needs course correction. Rather than waiting for someone else to make it happen, we invite you to become part of it.

A World in Urgent Need of Transformation

Humanity is hurtling toward a brick wall at a million miles an hour. And instead of applying the brakes, we are collectively pressing harder on the gas pedal.

We have become extraordinarily proficient at developing technologies, accumulating wealth, building systems of control, and exploiting the natural world. Yet our collective consciousness has failed to keep pace with our proclivity to influence, manipulate and destroy.

We can communicate with someone on the other side of the planet in an instant, yet struggle to find common ground with our neighbors. We have developed technologies capable of transforming human existence, yet increasingly deploy them in the service of surveillance, manipulation, warfare and the concentration of wealth. We produce more than enough to meet humanity's basic needs, yet millions live in poverty while extraordinary riches accumulate in the hands of a privileged few.

We have created a civilization that measures progress through economic growth, technological advancement, military strength and material consumption, while paying insufficient attention to the wellbeing of humanity and the natural world upon which all life depends.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

And perhaps most disturbingly, we have become accustomed to it.

War is normalized. Corruption is expected. Environmental destruction is treated as an unfortunate cost of doing business. Cruelty becomes entertainment. Lies become political currency. The exploitation of others is excused as ambition, and the pursuit of limitless wealth is celebrated as success.

Meanwhile, the suffering of people, animals and the natural world continues.

This is not progress toward a more enlightened civilization. It is a civilization in profound need of course correction.

We believe humanity is approaching a critical juncture in its evolution. The decisions you make, the values you embrace, and the consciousness from which you operate will determine whether we continue along this destructive trajectory or begin an extraordinary transformation.

Humanity does not need a better version of the systems that are failing us. Humanity needs a fundamental upliftment in consciousness.

And that transformation must begin with you.

The Forces Driving Humanity Toward Destruction

The greatest threats to humanity are not simply the weapons, technologies, political institutions or economic systems that dominate our world. They are the states of consciousness from which these things emerge.

Greed. Arrogance. Entitlement. Fear. Hatred. Jealousy. The lust for power. The need to dominate. The belief that some lives are inherently more valuable than others.

These are not isolated human failings. They are unfortunately deeply embedded within the psychological, cultural and institutional structures of our civilization.

They manifest through authoritarian leaders who regard themselves as above accountability. Through oligarchs who wield extraordinary economic influence without a corresponding sense of responsibility. Through corporations that place profit above human wellbeing. Through political movements that cultivate fear, resentment and division to consolidate power.

They manifest through the military-industrial complex, where conflict can become economically advantageous to those who profit from producing the instruments of war.

They manifest through media organizations and propaganda networks that exploit human vulnerabilities, manufacture outrage and encourage people to regard their fellow human beings as enemies.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

They manifest through technological ambitions that place unprecedented power into the hands of individuals and institutions whose moral development are woefully inadequate for the responsibilities they assume.

And they manifest through the relentless exploitation of the Earth, as though its forests, oceans, animals, plants and ecosystems exist solely to satisfy human appetites.

But there is an even deeper problem. Many of these destructive forces have become embedded in the very definition of success.

We admire those who accumulate wealth, regardless of how it was acquired. We celebrate those who dominate their competitors. We reward those who manipulate markets, consolidate influence and bend institutions to their will.

We have confused power with greatness, wealth with worthiness, technological capability with wisdom, and conquest with achievement.

Yet none of these things is an indication of higher consciousness.

A person can be extraordinarily intelligent and profoundly lacking in wisdom. A person can be enormously wealthy and utterly devoid of compassion. A civilization can become technologically sophisticated while remaining morally primitive.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

The fundamental problem is not that humanity lacks intelligence, resources or capability. It is that too much of humanity's intelligence, resources and capability remain disconnected from higher consciousness and the heart.

Until that changes, every new technological breakthrough risks becoming another instrument through which the same destructive patterns are expressed.

We cannot innovate, legislate or engineer our way out of a crisis rooted in human consciousness. No technological breakthrough, political reform or economic solution can save humanity from the destructive consequences of greed, fear, ego and the relentless pursuit of power.

Instead, we must confront the crisis at its source: the consciousness that created it. Unless we fundamentally transform that consciousness, we will continue to recreate the very problems we are desperately trying to solve.

Apathy is the Silent Accomplice to Destruction

There is another force that deserves particular attention – and that is apathy.

Apathy is one of the most powerful enablers of human disempowerment because it allows destructive forces to operate with minimal resistance. It is the shrug of the shoulders when another injustice is revealed. It is the resignation that corruption is inevitable. It is the belief that nothing will ever change. It is the assumption that someone else will step forward and do what needs to be done.

It is the person who recognizes that something is terribly wrong but decides that the problem is too large, too complicated or too distant to warrant their involvement. And it is the collective acceptance of a world that no longer reflects our deepest values.

Apathy does not always arise from indifference. Sometimes it emerges from exhaustion, despair, disillusionment or a lifetime of feeling powerless. People become overwhelmed by the scale of the world's problems. They retreat into their personal lives, hoping to protect themselves and those they love from the surrounding chaos.

This response is understandable. But it is also dangerous. Because when enough people disengage, the vacuum is filled by those who are most determined to abuse power.

The people most committed to controlling humanity do not require the enthusiastic support of everyone. They benefit enormously from the resignation, distraction and silence of everyone else. And this is how destructive systems become entrenched.

We believe that one of the greatest acts of empowerment is to reject the belief that you are too insignificant to make a difference. You do not need to hold political office, possess extraordinary wealth, command an army or control a media empire to participate in humanity's transformation. All you need to do is to become conscious of your own empowerment and choose to exercise your intention in the service of something greater than yourself.

And a simple way you can do that is to participate in this profound energy healing using the SFT taps offered in this booklet. The antidote to apathy is conscious and purposeful participation.

From Individual Empowerment to Universal Empowerment

At Jenuine Healing, our work is grounded in a simple but profound understanding. Individual empowerment and universal empowerment are inseparable.

You cannot create an empowered humanity from billions of people who remain disconnected from their own sovereignty, purpose and higher consciousness. And you cannot fully realize your individual empowerment while remaining indifferent to the suffering and disempowerment of the world around you.

True empowerment is the freedom to live in alignment with your higher self, guided by purpose rather than fear, by wisdom rather than ego, and by love rather than the need for approval, validation or control. It is the recognition that your value is inherent, rather than something you must earn through achievement, accumulation or the approval of others. And it is the willingness to use your freedom and sovereignty in a manner that respects the freedom and sovereignty of every other being.

This last point is critically important. Empowerment that comes at the expense of another is not true empowerment. It is domination.

The Transformation Begins Within — But It Must Not End There

There is a temptation within the awakened communities to focus almost exclusively on personal healing. To release your own trauma. To manifest abundance. To find inner peace. To raise your vibration. To become more aware.

These pursuits can be deeply meaningful and exhilarating. But true awakening becomes incomplete when it is disconnected from responsibility for the collective.

What is the value of attaining personal peace if you become indifferent to the suffering of others? What is the purpose of expanding your consciousness if that expansion does not influence how you engage with the world? And what does higher consciousness mean if you remain passive in the face of cruelty, exploitation and destruction?

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

Higher consciousness is not about escaping from humanity. It is an invitation to serve humanity from a more enlightened state of being. This is the bridge between individual empowerment and universal empowerment. And it is why we have created this collection of SFT taps.

Why These SFT Taps Matter

The SFT tapping protocols contained within this booklet have been developed through the energy healing work of world-renowned energy healer, Jen Ward.

They are an intentional energetic process designed to address the underlying patterns, imprints, attachments and energetic structures that contribute to disempowerment. They specifically address the abuse of power, corruption, authoritarianism, greed, propaganda, manipulation, warfare, exploitation, environmental destruction and the proliferation of technologies that threaten human sovereignty.

Some taps are directed toward particular institutions, controversial individuals or contemporary developments. Others address much broader patterns of consciousness that have persisted across generations. Some are confronting. Some use language that may be considered provocative or irreverent. But all are uncompromising in their resolute intent to shift the stagnant energies supporting disempowerment.

This is deliberate.

We are not interested in disguising the seriousness of humanity's predicament beneath comforting platitudes. Nor do we believe that intention must always be expressed in gentle, passive or agreeable language. There is a place for fierce clarity, unwavering intention and the refusal to accommodate destructive behavior.

But there is an important distinction between seeking to dismantle destructive patterns and becoming consumed by hatred toward those who perpetuate them. Our ultimate intention is the dissolution of the patterns of consciousness that enable exploitation and the abuse of power in the first place. These SFT taps allow you to take action in energy without lowering your vantage point toward hatred for specific institutions or individuals.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

How to Use These SFT Taps

SFT tapping involves repeating a statement while gently tapping on specific areas of your body.

For each SFT tap in this booklet:

1. Repeat the complete statement three times while continuously tapping on the top of your head.
2. Repeat the statement a fourth time while continuously tapping on your chest.
3. Repeat the statement a fifth time while continuously tapping on your abdomen.

Each numbered statement represents one complete SFT tap. Complete all five repetitions before moving to the next statement. Use a deliberate and commanding voice because you are commanding the universe to shift stagnant energy.

The collection includes standalone SFT statements alongside several of Jen's established tapping protocols. Two condensed protocols appear frequently throughout this booklet.

The first is The Triple Whammy protocol. It is a condensed version of at least 50 taps. Its intention is to dissipate the synergy between an undesirable outcome, all its enablers, all the trajectories that support it and all the nuances that prop it up as a possibility. This protocol addresses three interconnected subjects, expressed in the following format: The Triple Whammy protocol is energetically completed between X, Y, and Z; in all moments.

The second is The Peanut Butter & Jelly (PB&J) protocol. It addresses the energetic relationship between two subjects. In its condensed form, taps containing the PB&J protocol are expressed in the following format: The PB&J protocol is energetically completed between A and B; in all moments.

The taps are organized into topic areas addressing different dimensions of humanity's disempowerment. Some focus on the abuse of political and economic power. Others address warfare, corruption, manipulation, technological control, environmental destruction, exploitation and broader patterns of collective consciousness.

Obviously, you are not going to complete the entire collection in one sitting. You may work systematically through the booklet or select a topic that particularly resonates with you.

We encourage you to establish a regular practice, whether that involves completing one section at a time or setting aside a period each day to work through a selection of taps.

There is no requirement to rush, and no prescribed number of taps that must be completed each day.

© Jenuine Healing, 2026

Some statements are deliberately confronting. They may challenge your existing beliefs, political allegiances or understanding of the world. Approach them with discernment and a willingness to examine your own responses.
